Shinjuku Gyoen and Meiji Jingu Shrine are two obvious points of interest in this area. Just be careful: Shinjuku Gyoen, while beautifully maintained, closes bizarrely early. The narrow road on the outskirts of the park, with its crumbling old homes and small shops, makes for a particularly pleasant walk. Follow it north into the heart of Shinjuku. Off the beaten path, Chako Amemiya serves up ‘American style’ steak. For a drink or some snacks in a laid-back atmosphere, try Bottle Café, or if you’re really into all the subtle variations of sake and sashimi, you’ll find them at Chotto Gobu.
